

Automotive Technology Licensing

Valens' technology intellectual property rights which are used for the A-PHY project in the MIPI Alliance are protected by intellectual property rights. Valens clarifies that the use of essential claims in this project will be under RAND-Z (Reasonable and non-discriminatory license with zero royalty) terms.

As such, Valens will not require any fee and/or royalty for the rights to use any A-PHY-based products developed based on the MIPI project for the design, manufacture and sale of integrated circuits.
